Calendar

February

Friday, February 19, 7:30 p.m. NATIVE AMERICAN STORYTELLING, SINGING & DRUMMING, with four tales from various Salish elders: Bear & Ant, Fox & Goat, Fox & Mother Raven and Star Story (a creation myth).

REBECCA CHAMBERLAIN FENWICK lectures for the Seattle Public Library on astronomy and star lore and works with the literature and oral traditions of the Puget Sound Salish people. She is a graduate student at the University of Washington and worked 4 1/2 years at the Pacific Science Center doing legend, Native American skills, and anthropological study at a NW Coast Indian Longhouse, as well as background research and script development on star-lore from various cultures.

March

Friday, March 12, 7:30 p.m. MR. HYDE, DR. JEKYLL AND DR. JUNG. An examination of Robert Louis Stevenson's "The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" as Victorian melodrama personifying C. G. Jung's concept of the autonomous complex. Jung contended that a complex, a constellation of psychic energy, was the basis for ego identification, and that other such constellations could exist, operating autonomously through separate egos. In this "strange case" habit strength becomes a rival of one-sided ego strength and when shadow is involved moral confrontation ensues.

EMMETT EARLY received his Ph. D. from Washington State University in clinical psychology. He recently began and directed Seattle's only storefront counseling program for Vietnam Veterans. Currently, he is in private practice in the Fremont district. Dr. Early studied Jung's Psychology in San Francisco and was in analysis with John Tally in 1968. He completed his Master's Thesis under direction of the Jungian psychologist Claire Thompson at WSU with the assistance of a grant from the C. G. Jung Institute of San Francisco.

Location

The location for our Friday evening presentations will be the Shoreline Unitarian Church, 14724 First Ave. NE. Just take the 145th street exit off I-5, go west to 1st Ave. NE and north to 14724. Turn right into a gravel parking lot and look for a low, rustic building.

April

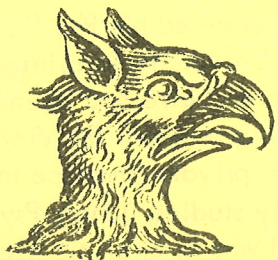

Saturday, April 3, 10:00-12:00 a.m. & 1:30-3:30 p.m. FANTASY AND THE FANTASTIC, A SEMINAR ON DREAMS, DAY DREAMS AND FANTASTIC LITERATURE & ART.

WILLIAM WILLEFORD is a Jungian Analyst and Associate Professor of English and Comparative Literature at the University of Washington. Dr. Willeford graduated from the C. G. Jung Institute in Zurich and is author of The Fool and His Sceptor and numerous articles on psychological and literary subjects.

Members $15.00
Others $20.00

Please mail in your fee with the reservation form below. Insufficient preregistration might cause cancellation of the seminar.

This seminar will be held at the Sherwood Inn, 400 N.E. 45th Street, Seattle.

Board Meeting

The next Board Meeting will be Friday, March 26, 7:30 PM at the home of Phyllis Hatfield, 209 Lake Washington Boulevard. (325-8189). We will discuss the need for setting a policy with regard to what extent our speakers should be specifically trained in or associated with Jungian psychology. The question specifically arises if we invite speakers who are practicing therapists without a formal background in Jungian psychology, are we implicitly endorsing his or her form of therapy to the public? This should be a very interesting and important discussion. All Members are invited to attend.
